STUDENT STORE

"We use the Student Store Point of Sale Module to teach students 'real-world' skills and have 'real-world' experiences. One example is personal accountability; having to be responsible and take ownership of cashiering on a real point of sale, counting money and balancing a till at the end of shift. It teaches them to be accountable for inventory control, buying the right products and even customer service."

Kari Weinman, Richland High School – The Bomb Shelter

The Student Store Environment is Unique as the System Must:

- Provide an educational aspect
- Be representative of real-world point of sale systems
- Comply with district requirements for audit and inventory control
- Be fun, easy and interesting for the student operator and/or point of sale manager
- Reach the learning objectives the students need to grasp perpetual inventory management and purchasing side of the processes
- Be simple enough to learn during restrictive class periods
- Be technically manageable for easy implementation and support
- Able to turn a short break or lunch period into profits
- Versatility for different fundraisers, applications and school events
- Ability to accept integrated credit cards, standard processing rates apply, estimated 3% of transaction
